SHADOW BOXES

Those of us fortunate enough to have been attracted to fly fishing have over the years accumulated flies, streamers, bugs, etc. that are of particular interest and value to us. We may have even purchased flies that now have become collector items, thus adding additional value and interest for yourself and others.

Based on the enjoyment provided by being able to view these concoctions of fur and feathers, I have designed and put together a number of different presentation shadow boxes to display these memorabilia. Formats are offered for displaying a single salmon fly up to one that would hold a fair size collection. In addition a frame has been designed to accommodate a picture; e.g. fish caught, location, etc. in addition to a fly and title box.

All frames are produced with individual care and attention to detail to assure complete satisfaction and provide lasting pleasure. A selection of colors of contrasting tones are offered so that you can select the particular combination that best highlights your collection with each mat bevel cut by hand. Each custom framing package contains the following:

- Frame in light or dark molding
- Glass and backer board with push points
- Double or triple mat of your color selection Dust cover with already affixed adhesive
- Hangers, wire and necessary screws
- Hang-Rite adhesive pads to keep frame in place
- Plastic rod to mount flies, bugs, etc.
- Complete set of instructions

The only item required to complete your presentation frame would be the glue to affix the items to be mounted. Should you desire a unique display format, a quotation can be provided upon request.

DISPLAY CASES

These uniquely different display cases protect the items by a clear heat bent Lucite cover which safe guards them from dust, dirt and unwarranted handling. Each of the cases consist of a wood base in either walnut or oak upon which is mounted a removable Lucite cover.

Since the Lucite cover exposes the item or items on three sides, any item displayed is visible from almost any location in a room. The cover is held in place by either brass thumb screws or escutcheon pins that can be removed easily to gain access. Having a rod or reel displayed along with other memorabilia, flies, etc. could add additional interest to a room's decor.

In the event you are a serious enthusiast of the collecting scene, the cases are an excellent way of displaying any number of different items. Collectable flies, rods, reels that you may wish to remove for one reason or another, i.e., sale or trade are easily accessed.

Each rod case is supplied with a solid brass plate which can be appropriately engraved.

If you have a special requirement, we would be pleased to quote a price for any unique case or cases you may desire. Please send a sketch along with the dimensions and I'll get a quote to you.
